

 Showing why he is a great hope for free thinking people everywhere, Eliot Spitzer kept his word today:
Updated. As expected, Gov. Eliot Spitzer introduced a bill today to legalize same-sex marriage in New York. (Gay City News had the early word this morning.) Mr. Spitzer's staff had been trying to put the legislation together in time for Monday's Tuesday's lobby day by gay-rights groups. And it looks like they succeeded.
