

This from The

Independent on Sunday in re Barack Obama planning a foreign trip:
 An Obama international tour is likely to tap into the wave of enthusiasm in Europe "particularly Spain, France and Germany, where his colour, youth and, above all, message that jaw-jaw is always better than to war-war have created impassioned interest.
 Obama plans foreign tour as Bush flies to Britain - Americas, World - The Independent